

The Albertine Region Land Platform (ARLP):

ARLP is a network of over 15 civil society organizations and communities affected by the activities of Transnational Corporations (TNCs) in the oil and gas sector. These groups resist compulsory land acquisition and environmental destruction caused by oil and gas activities in the Oil-rich Albertine Graben.

ARLP is a peoples' national response to unaccountable corporate power which provides facilitation for dialogue, strategizing, exchanging information and experiences, acting as a space for visibility of resistance and deepening of solidarity and support for struggles against land contestation between Government and the oil companies on one hand and the community members on the other.

At the same time, Resource Rights Africa organizes strategic engagement meetings with line Government Ministries and Agencies, oil companies, local government officials, including Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) to discuss and find solutions to the different challenges.
